Disgraceful Business.

There has been secretly circulated through the mails without even postmarks an anonymous circular, libelous in its character, against Daniel F Beatty of Washington, N. J., proprietor of the Beatty Piano and Beatty's celebrated Golden Tongue Parlor Organs.

It is supposed to have been done by competitors in the business, as none others would be to the trouble and expense, even if they had no fear of the punishment if detected, and the cause is attributed to the fact that Mr. Beatty has been making a very successful war upon high prices in those instruments.

We have received from Mr. Beatty the following open letter addressed to him by the officials and prominent men of his own town.

WASHINGTON, N. J., July 5, 1877.

To Daniel F. Beatty, Esq.:

It having come to our knowledge that communications written with an intent to falsify you and injure your business, have appeared in a certain periodical, we therefore, as citizens of this place—having known you for years—consider it an act of justice to you to pronounce all such communications to be entirely uncalled for and slanderous, and endorse you as being, so far as we have ever been able to judge, a man of sterling integrity and prompt in all your business transactions. Signed, Nathan Hilts, Mayor; Alphens Babcock, G. A. Thatcher, Henry Winter, and Wm. E. Cummins, Councils; Joseph Vreit, Judge of the Court; James H. Groff, Vice President, and P. H Hann, Cashier First National Bank; Rev. J. J. Reed, Pastor M. E. Church (acquainted but few months); J. V. Creveling, Jos. A. Shrope and John C. Winter, Justices of the Peace; John Gardner, Sheriff, and Richard B. Shaffer, Deputy Sheriff of Warren county; A. W. Creveling, General Merchant; Philip Johnston, late Assessor, and others.

I certify that I am acquainted with the hand writing of the above, and recognize all of them as genuine. The gentlemen are of our best citizens, and I fully concur in the letter.

OSCAR JEFFERY,
Counselor-at-Law and Notary Public.

We can hardly conceive of a more complete answer to such a libel than the above letter, but Mr. Beatty requests all interested to address him for full reply, and asks for information touching the parties circulating the libel if any can be obtained, with a view to their prosecution and punishment.

Webster and the Quakers.

While I was in the Senate (said General Shields) I saw much of Webster both in and out of the Capitol. He met me one day and said: "Shields, I find I have got into difficulty with some of my constituents, some Quakers, who are dissatisfied with my advocacy of a certain measure, and they have sent a large delegation down here from Massachusetts to make a protest. I have promised to meet them this evening, and I would like to have you there."

"Why, what can I do?"

"Your native blarney, Shields—it may help me out of the trouble."

I laughed at the idea of blarney effecting anything where Daniel Webster's eloquence could not convince, and I made that objection, but he insisted, and I promised to be on hand. Evening came, and I joined Mr. Webster at his rooms. Presently the delegation arrived and I were seated, a dozen or twenty of the most solemn men I have ever seen, all rigidly costumed in Quaker dress. Without wasting any time the chairman arose and addressed Mr. Webster in a set speech. He commented severely on the course of the Senator as to the measures in question, setting forth the bad effect which it might have on their sect, expressing great sorrow and fear, rise that Mr. Webster had been found supporting such a bill, and concluded with a vigorous protest in writing, which bore many signatures. Webster listened attentively with unchanged countenance, and when the spokesman had resumed his seat he rose and replied. He spoke half an hour, and before he concluded he grew as eloquent as he was often heard. His defense was simply that he deemed the measure one demanded by the interests of the whole country, although it might not be specially adapted to the wants and interests of any sect, and after clearly setting this forth he made such an appeal to the delegation to remember that they were Americans, as well as Quakers, that I was fairly electrified. The effect produced by his words on the delegation was astonishing. When he began they were all seated; after he had spoken ten minutes one after another rose to his feet, until they were all standing; then they commenced to move toward him in a body. Before he finished I saw the chairman take out his petition and tear it to pieces; and when he had finished some of them were shedding tears, and all were grasping Webster's hands as fast as they could get them. "Friend Webster," cried the spokesman, "thee is right and we are wrong; we owe thee an apology; we will say no more about it; thee knows thy duty better than we."

The next day I met Mr. Webster, and with a countenance of perfect gravity he said: "Well, Shields—now didn't we blarney those fellows nicely?"

Woman.

There is a beautiful touch in the helplessness of woman. The clinging grace which searches for extraneous support is graceful and touching. Timidity is the attribute of her sex; but to herself it is not without its dangers, its inconveniences, and its sufferings. Her first effort at comparative freedom is bitter enough; for the delicate mind shrinks from every unaccustomed contact, and the warm and gushing heart closes itself, like the blossom of the sensitive plant, at every approach. Man at once determines his position, and asserts his place; woman has hers to seek. And, alas! I fear that, however she may appear to turn a calm brow and quiet lip to the crowd through which she makes her way, that brow throbs and that lip quivers to the last, until, like a wounded bird, she can once more wing her way to that tranquil home where the drooping head will be fondly raised, and the fluttering heart laid to rest! The dependence of women in the common affairs of life is, nevertheless, rather the effect of custom than necessity. We have many and brilliant proofs that, where need is, she can be sufficient to herself, and play her part in the great drama of existence with credit, if not with comfort. The yearnings of her solitary spirit, the outgushings of her shrinking sensibility, the cravings of her alienated heart are indulged only in the quiet holiness of her solitude. The world sees not, guesses not the conflict; and in the ignorance of others lies her strength.

The secret of her weakness is hidden in the depths of her own bosom; and she moves on amid the heat and hurry of existence, and with a seal set upon her nature, to be broken only by fond and loving hands, or dissolved in the tears of recovered home affection.

A Swiss Colony in the South.

A Swiss colony settled on Cumberland Mountain, Tennessee, in 1873. This colony, which consists of 115 families, making a company of about 700 people, purchased 10,000 acres of mountain land at $1 per acre, and now, although four years have elapsed, each head of a family has a comfortable home, surrounded by an orchard and garden, and decorated with a profusion of mountain flowers. There is a large store that is managed for the colony, members of which get goods from it at wholesale cost; the colony has its own school, church, doctors, etc., and the members their own candidates to govern the districts in which they live. The colonists already have dairies and cheese factories in successful operation, and all their products find ready sale and command fancy prices. They have splendid heads of cattle, and their barns are built as carefully as their houses. There is also a colony of Swiss near Greenville, S. C., about as large as the Tennessee colony, and it is prospering finely.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

An influential southern paper observes that should manufactures increase as rapidly in the south during the next decade as they have during that which is just past, while her agricultural interests continue also to flourish, it will be a matter of indifference to her whether we have protection or free trade.

It may not be generally known that the southern Confederacy ever coined any money, but a man living in Alabama has a silver quarter, bearing upon it the head of Jefferson Davis, which was coined in 1862.

There are five born sisters in a Canadian convent, all of them professed nuns, and they have contributed their combined fortunes, amounting to $500,000, to the treasury of the nunnery.

No man who buttons his coat with a shingle nail should part his hair in the middle.

Mercantile Maxims.

The way to get credit is to be punctual. The way to preserve it is not to use it too much. Settle often; have short accounts. Trust to no man's appearance—it is deceptive—perhaps assumed for the purpose of obtaining credit. Beware of gaudy exterior. Rogues usually dress well. The rich are plain men. Trust him, if any one, who carries but little on his back. Never trust him who flies into a passion on being gainsaid; make him pay quickly, if there be any virtue in the law. Be satisfied, before you give a credit, that those you give it to are safe men to be trusted. Sell your goods at a small advance, and never misrepresent them, or those who you once deceive will beware of you the second time. Deal uprightly with all men, and they will repose confidence in you, and soon become your permanent customers. Beware of him who is an office seeker. Men do not usually want an office for support. Trust no stranger. Your goods are better than doubtful charges. What is character worth, if you make it cheap, crediting all alike? Agree beforehand with every man about to do a job, and if large, put it into writing. If any decline them, quit—or be cheated. Though you want a job ever so much, make all sure at the onset; and in all cases at all doubtful make sure of a guarantee. Be not afraid to ask it; it is the best of responsibility, for, if offence be taken, you have escaped a loss.

The Bessemer Steel Rail.

BESSEMER steel rails have become a necessity in railroad economy, and their production has increased so rapidly in this country that, whereas, a few years since, we imported all that we used from England, the manufacture of them here has now become a recognized branch of our iron industry. Representatives of the principal mills have been assembled in convention in this city during the current week, for the purpose of regulating the trade and advancing prices. The result has been the formation of what is equivalent to a manufacturers' pool for controlling the market. As we understand it there is to be no restriction of production, but each manufacturer is to contribute two dollars per ton to a pool fund, which is to be divided equally among all the parties interested in the Bessemer process. It is evident from this that the American manufacturers no longer stand in fear of foreign competition, but consider themselves able to manage the business here as they see fit. The advance in price is nearly ten dollars per ton, which amounts to twenty-five per cent. on late contract figures.

American Writing Paper.

Every well wisher of this country cannot help being gratified when he sees the industries of the United States increasing in extent and prosperity. Far too many years did we depend on European manufacturing centres for indispensable articles that we could have produced cheaper and better at home if we had tried, because we had great stores of the raw material needed at our doors, and by our skill and ingenuity in contriving labor-saving machinery, were enabled to compete with the poorly paid labor of foreign lands.

In no department of our foreign industries has greater progress been achieved than in that of paper making. Year by year the quality of the material has been improved and the facilities for its production augmented. American consumers of paper were not slow to see the superiority of the article made at home, and patronized it liberally. Their appreciation was rewarded by increased excellence of workmanship on the part of the manufacturers, until to-day the importation of writing paper is practically at an end. There may be a few odd lots brought over occasionally, but to all intents and purposes the Americans to-day—the people that write more than any other one nation on earth—write on American paper.

A hitherto indigenous plant in the Caucasian Mountains has recently been introduced in France by one of the leading scientists of that country. It is the symphytum asperinum, incomparable as a green fodder for cattle, and having the great advantage of resisting and flourishing in the dryest seasons and the longest possible droughts.

An English traveler writes: "It is a mistake to suppose that Americans are loquacious and inquisitive. They do not kick their heels at a railway station; they often go through a meal without saying a word; a buzz of conversation is seldom heard; their silence is really oppressive; they are the quietest and most orderly people on the face of the earth."

Said an up-town politician to his son: "Look at me! I began as an inspector of election, and here I am an alderman-at-large; and what is my reward? Why, when I die, my son will be the greatest rascal in the city." To which the young hopeful replied: "Yes, dad, when you die—but not till then."

The following awful warning is going the rounds: "A few years ago Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague paid $2,000 per yard for dress material. To-day her husband's paper sells for 2½ cents on the dollar."

A bashful young man while driving out with the dearest girl in the world, was obliged to get out of the carriage and buckle the crupper, and he hesitatingly explained that "the animal's buckle had got loose."

A brass cannon sunk in the Hudson by Burgoyne during his retreat 100 years ago, is soon to be raised. It is a 12 pounder, and lies in ten feet of water, 200 feet from shore, under three feet of mud.

In Japan the law requires fish to be sold alive. In this country cheese is frequently sold that way, but the law does not absolutely demand it.

The nutritive value of cocoa is 50 per cent. fat and 20 per cent. albuminoids; beef, 3 and 20; wheat, 1 and 14; milk, 3 and 4.

LEGISLATIVE.

We have compiled the following from the Sacramento Record Union.

The following bills have been introduced in the Senate:

An Act to "tinker" the libel law.

In relation to embezzlements. Makes it embezzlement for trustees or custodians of stock on which loans are made to fail to return identical certificates pledged.

Concerning the mortgage of growing crops.

In regard to building and loan corporations. Requiring loans to be confined to loans on hand.

An act to amend section 895 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The original section provides that unless plaintiff recovers a sum equal to the offer, he shall not recover costs. The amendment requires plaintiff to recover an amount in excess of the offer in order to recover costs.

In relation to forcible or unlawful detainer. Same course.

Amending the Political Code concerning State diplomas for teachers in the public schools.

Relative to obtaining money by false pretenses, and by false reports of wealth, etc., so that cases of embezzlement of small sums, etc., may be tried by the Justices of the Peace instead of their being held over, as now, to appear before the Grand Jury. As the case now is a case of embezzlement of one dollar may cost the county hundreds.

An Act entitled an Act to protect life and property in this State. The provisions of the bill are as follows:

Section 1. Any person who shall in the presence of two or more persons, aid, abet, counsel or advise any person or persons to injure, burn or destroy the property or life of any person or persons shall be guilty of a felony.

Sec 2. This Act shall take effect immediately.

Gives non-resident aliens the right to administer estates.

The following bills have been introduced in the Assembly:

Requires fuller compliance with the revenue laws by County Treasurers: and also requires Assessors to report certain statistical information to the Controller of State

To more fully define the duties of Court Commissioners and to provide them with seals, etc.

To create the office of Savings Bank Commissioner and prescribe his powers and duties.

Relative to the Board of Trustees of District and State Boards of Education. The bill makes it the duty of School Trustees to report annually to the County Superintendent of Schools the amount of money received and expended; also to furnish a copy to the nearest newspaper.

An act to amend Section 1,774 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Compels creditors of estates to present their demands to the Administrators or executors before commencing suits to recover.

Relative to certain duties of constables.

Requires guardians to report annually the condition of estates under their control to the Probate Court.

Relative to executions from Justices' Courts.

An act to authorize the poisoning of wild geese in the agricultural counties of the State of California.

Amends election law. All registration must be at least ten days before election. No certificates to be issued to voters.—Oath prescribed when vote is objected to.

An act to amend section 895 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Provides that actions for libel or slander against the publisher or proprietor of any newspaper or serial publication shall be prosecuted in the county where such newspaper or sereal publication is printed.

An Act to amend Section 858 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Provides that before plaintiff have judgment in Justices' Courts he shall surrender for concellation (or prove the loss of) the original note or instrument on which the action is based.

A horrible accident occurred at the Savage mine Virginia City, Nev., on Monday last. About half past five that evening, William Carpenter, employed at the Savage mine, was boring a stick of timber with a steam auger. The auger was pointed towards him, and he was pressing a stick against it. The auger passed through the stick, caught in the man's body, and passing through his abdomen came out at his back. He was taken off as soon as the machinery could be stopped, and eight feet of his entrails unwound from the auger. He conversed for a few minutes about his business affairs, and was then put under the influence of chloroform to die, and expired shortly afterwards.

Milton S. Latham has resigned the Presidency of the London and San Francisco Bank on account of sickness. With his resignation the office of President is discontinued. A. Scrivener is now the General Manager.

---

The London News on Saturday said: "Thoughts of peace have disappeared, and a disruption of the Cabinet is imminent. Disraeli has forced England to a point where war seems almost unavoidable."

---

Louis E. Darion, City Treasurer of Quebec, is said to be a defaulter to the amount of $500,000. So we Yankees are not the only rascals in creation.

---

Government will have a party stationed at San Francisco to make careful observations of the transit of Mercury over the sun's disc, which takes place on the 6th of May.

DEATH OF NATHAN PORTER.

Hon. Nathan Porter, Senator from Alameda county, died of rheumatic affection of the heart at Sacramento at midnight on Saturday last. By this sudden dispensation of Providence, California has lost one of her ablest statesmen and best of men. Senator Porter was born in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1818. He came to California in 1854.—In 1861 he was elected District Attorney of San Francisco and served three terms and was the most efficient officer that ever held that position. Nathan Porter was a good man in every sense of the term, and while a candidate before the people last Summer for State Senator, he was probably the only man in the State that was not villified by the "Satanic Press" of San Francisco.—His sterling worth was too patent to the people for it to dare attack his character as a man or politician. We have but few such men in our State in public life.

The remains of the lamented were removed to San Francisco for interment, escorted by Committees of both branches of the Legislature, and delegations of Odd Fellows, of which noble Order Mr. Porter was a most prominent member. His funeral took place at San Francisco under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, and was largely attended.

VALUABLE PAPERS.—Want of room in our last issue prevented us noticing the New Years' number of the Sacramento Record-Union, which was a valuable paper, containing its yearly summary of notable events in the history of that city and the State, and with a full description of its prominent manufactures and industries. The Sacramento Bee also favored its readers with a double sheet on Christmas Eve, with a view of the State Capitol and the new High School building, in connection with a history of the progress of the enterprising Capital City during the year just past. They are both enterprising and valuable journals and a credit to our State.

The California Scandinav, is the name of a new weekly paper in San Francisco. As its name imports it is devoted to the interests of the Scandinavian population of this coast. The Scandinavians are good citizens and intelligent, and the new paper will undoubtedly be well sustained.

Jim Keene it is said boasts that he is still $2,500,000 ahead of Wall street.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

BEATTY'S ORGANS.—Having furnished one of Beatty's fine Parlor organs for the Heath House, Schooley Mountain, N. J., we are in receipt of an acknowledgement, under date of Thanksgiving day, in which Mrs. J. W. Coleman, wife of the host, says: "We are also thankful for the additional pleasure of all, in listening to the delightful tones of the beautiful organ that now ornaments our parlor, it having arrived just in time for the day. Our daughter is perfectly infatuated with it and handles it very nicely. We were handsomely received by Mr. Beatty at his ware rooms."

ITS DEPTH—From F. K. Gurney, who left here some two weeks ago for Columbia, we learn the following in relation to the depth of snow on the Big Tree road: From the "double S" to the summit it was from six inches to three feet deep; in Hermit Valley ten inches; from eighteen inches to three feet; in Silver Valley, twelve inches; Bear Valley, twelve inches; at Gardners eight inches. The snowbelt then reached to the Halfway House. The late storms have added to the depth of snow on the road, and it may now be considered closed for the season, Mr. Gurney being the last one to travel it with a horse.

ICE HOUSES.—The late very cold weather, which made thick ice in our rivers, the Carson having frozen from bank to bank, has admonished some of our people to stow away a supply for next Summer. W. A Johnson, of Johnson's Hotel, Markleeville, has erected an ice house in the rear of his hotel and is putting in a goodly supply from the Middle Fork, from which blocks of ice 14 inches thick have been cut.—Mr. Johnson has also an ice repository at Bullion which Barnum is filling with clear Carson river ice. "Big lumps; everybody buys 'em!—next Summer.

FEED YOUR CATS.—The cats of this town are not properly cared for by their owners or they are very dainty, as they are getting on too familiar terms with our henneries, several of our citizens having had chickens killed by them. Mr Moresi, one of the greatest sufferers, says that unless those owning cats see that their pets have enough to eat without going after chickens, he will make he cat population of our town considerable less.

SOCIAL DANCE—A social dance will be given by our dancing population on Friday evening next. We believe it is intended to have one of these enjoyable gatherings fortnightly. The ladies have decided to have the sociable on Friday next a masquerade. A general invitation is extended to friends in other parts of the county to attend. It will be a pleasant and brilliant party

SHERIDAN HOUSE.—The Sheridan House, in Carson Valley, has been leased by A. Livingstone, of Genoa, who is having it placed in good order, and will put it in charge of J. E. McDonald, late of Silver Mountain, who moved into his new quarters this week.

TAXES.—Delinquent taxpayers can settle up before their property is advertised by paying seven per cent, additional. All unpaid by the 25th will be advertised on the 26th and then more costs go on.

BETTER UNSAID.—We would suggest that it would have been better for all concerned if many of the "Alpine items" that have appeared in the Genoa News had been put into the fire before they could reach the hands of the compositor.

IN GOOD ORDER.—Our roads were never in better condition for the Winter than at this time. Where in former inclement seasons, teamsters had difficulties to encounter in the mud line, the roads have been remodeled and no such troubles are now experienced.

REMEMBER US.—We wish our friends at the various precinct in this county would send us the local news weekly. We will supply them with stamped envelopes and remember them in our daily prayers.

FIRE.—We learn that Dave Stephenson's saloon at Monitor was considerably damaged by fire on Wednesday night. We have no particulars.

UTAH ASSESSMENT.—This Company has an assessment on of 4½ cents a share—delinquent February 9th; sale, February 25th. See advertisement.

He answers objections to his civil service policy by reading the fifth section of the Cincinnati platform.—His calmness irritates his assailants all the more. He appears satisfied with his Cabinet, and indicates no wavering in the presence of the clamor against them. He asks no personal favors of Congress, and so Congress has not a basis for any trade with him. ### Among the Dead Failures.

Of the past, how many bogus nostrums may be numbered! Beginning their careers with a tremendous flourish of trumpets, blazoned for a time in the public prints and on flaming posters, soon, but not too soon, were they relegated to the limbo of things lost on earth.—But Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a living and thriving remedy. It goes on, curing and to cure. Neither underhand nor open competition affect it. On the contrary, contrast with interior rival preparations only increases its popularity. It has been repeatedly imitated, but without success. Counterfeits of it have been surreptitiously introduced, but have fallen flat. Everywhere it entrenches itself in the confidence of the people; and well it may, for it is a thoroughly reliable invigorant of the feeble, banishes dyspepsia and constipation, braces the nerves, cures rheumatic ailments and kidney complaints, and eradicates and prevents intermittent and remittent fevers.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. # THE CHRONICLE.

All persons, old or young, feeble or strong who value the preservation of their health or their lives, should, as far as possible, in inclement weather, clothe themselves in flannel, woollen, and fur garments, eschewing silk and the lighter materials until the season is more favorable.—Sanitary Record.

During foggy weather, the impurities of the atmosphere, both gaseous and solid, are carried down and inhaled. As the nose is the proper channel by which breathed air should pass to the lungs, the mouth should never be opened when one is exposed to the weather: the cold air is warmed and irritating particles are arrested by the nasal mucus and the lungs thus saved.

R. W. RAYMOND, in the Atlantic, declares that over-production is the bane of the iron business. He shows that the seven hundred and fifty furnaces in this country would produce five million tons of iron per year, when there is a demand for but two millions of tons. If this statement is true it will be a long time before the iron industry revives so as to reach its old proportions.

Two men in Perry county married each other's daughters. Now, how are they related? Well, as nearly as we can make it, they are each other's father-in-law; hence, each other's son-in-law, and their wives are each other's stepdaughter; hence, each other's stepmother. If any of our readers can discover any other relationship existing between them, we should like to hear from them.

Some men are completely unnerved by the sight of a woman's tears, and would rather miss a base-ball game than see them weep—before they're married; but afterwards, a woman may cry till the tubs float in the cellar, while she tugs a heavy hod of coal up a dark and narrow flight of stairs, and the man remains as calm and immobile as a cigar-store sign.—Cincinnati Breakfast Table.

The meanest man yet. He went to church. The contribution box was passed. He had one cent. He dropped it on the floor. The box passed on. Everybody saw the supposed unintentional occurrence. When the folks get down to pray, mean man gets down for penny.—Penny saved. When folks get up to sing m. m. (mean man) joins in loudly, "A charge to keep I have," evidently referring to penny.—Now, bring on your mean men!—Camden Post.

THE impurities that make water injurious to health are organic matters, such as are abundantly supplied by barnyards, drains, and cemeteries, where the decay of animal and vegetable substance is going on. Some families who live on farms, and who fancy they are drinking the best water, are, in fact, constantly imbibing poison that will appear, perhaps, in the dreaded form of diphtheria or typhoid fever.—Scientific American.

The twenty-cent piece is a base deceiver. It is invariably given out and received for a quarter. The consequence is a liberal use of adjectives and wickedness in general. "I'll tell you what we'll do, my dear!" said Mrs. Ferguson yesterday, displaying on her countenance the light of a new discovery. "We'll take them hereafter and put them in the contribution-box. Perhaps it is cheating the church; but that, evidently, is what the twenty-cent piece was made for."

A noted miser who felt obliged to make a present to a lady, entered a crockery store for the purpose of making a purchase. Seeing a statuette broken into a dozen pieces, he asked the price. The salesman said it was worthless, but he could have it for the cost of packing in a box. He sent it to the lady with his card, congratulating himself that she would imagine it had become ruined while on its way home. He dropped in to see the effect. The tradesman had carefully wrapped each piece in a separate piece of paper.

A new feature, and it is a good one, has been introduced into society by a number of belles and beaux of the upper circles of St. Louis. It consists in the formation of a club, called the "Cooking Club," composed of ladies and gentlemen who will give a series of parties at the different homes of the lady members. Each lady who will attend will have to bring with her some refreshments cooked by herself. The ladies invite their own gentlemen escorts, and the latter will not be allowed, under penalty of being expelled, to furnish carriages.

COLLIERY explosions occur in Great Britain with appalling frequency, although few of them occasion such a fearful loss of life as the late disaster near Glasgow. It is regarded as one more melancholy support of a theory which has been advanced that these calamities are produced more frequently on Mondays because the explosive gases have had time to generate from Saturday night, when the colliery is closed. This is a reason why the inspectors who go down the mines on Monday mornings should exact unusual care and vigilance.

A COLOSSAL LION.—A colossal lion will shortly be constructed on the top of the dam of Gileppe in Belgium. It is to consist of 203 huge blocks of stone, weighing on an average 2,000 to 3,000 kilogrammes each. Its height will be about 12.50 metres, and its length 16 metres. Placed on a pedestal of granite 8 metres high, this monumental lion will be a conspicuous object throughout the valley of Gileppe. The paws of the animal will measure 1.40 metres in width, the eye 0.40, and the nostrils 0.80 metre each. Behind each claw a man could easily hide.

THE Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist has the following in reference to a Northern allusion to the new Southern cry for the old flag and an appropriation: "Well, why not? You fellows have about $400,000,000 the start of us, and we hope to get even with you some day. In old days when we let you have the entire grab and stood upon our dignity, you laughed in your sleeves and called us 'chivalry' and 'fools' of the Don Quixote order. We are poor now but powerful. We do not stand so much on dignity as of yore. Can you blame us, then, for being such apt scholars, and combining loyalty with business?"

At a nappy spot where a number of negroes reside, an old negro was heard calling out to his wife: "Manda! Is you got dem chickens shut up in de smoke-house, like I told yer?" "No; an' I like ter know what's de matter wid you, dat you's so mighty tickled 'bout dem chickens all at once!" she replied. "Nebber you mind. I know what's de matter, and dat's nuff till dem chickens is housed. When I hears dat dem niggars over dar in de next yard gwine to hab a party to-morrow night, I wants to be shore dat my chickens doesn't tend it; you hear me?" The chickens were at once locked up.

CHEAP PROCESS FOR BRONZING ARTICLES MADE OF IRON WIRE.—Clean the wire perfectly, and then immerse it in a solution of sulphate of copper until covered with a coating of metallic copper. Then wash and immerse the articles in the following solution: verdigris, two ounces; salammoniac, one ounce; vinegar, one pint; diluted with water until it tastes only slightly metallic, and then boiled for a few minutes and filtered. The articles are steeped in this liquor, at the boiling point, until the desired effect is produced; but do not keep them in too long. When taken out wash carefully in hot water and dry.
